

GERMAN IMPERIAL CHANCELLOR FELICITATES FLEET COMMANDER

AMSTERDAM, via London, June 4. 12:48 a.m.—The Imperial German chancellor has sent the following telegram to the commander of the high seas fleet, according to a Berlin dispatch:

"I beg your excellency to accept my heartfelt congratulations upon the grand success of the high seas fleet. Pride and enthusiasm prevail throughout the whole of Germany that the fleet has now also had an opportunity of showing a superior enemy, who considered himself invincible, with mighty blows what Germany's sea power is able to do. The fatherland rejoices and is thankful."

GERMAN ENTHUSIASM HELD HARDLY JUSTIFIED

Amsterdam Paper Declares Teutons
Still Are Bottled Up in Iron Girdle.

LONDON, June 3.—The Amsterdam Handelsblad, comparing the British and German official reports of the big sea battle, points out the difference in the statements regarding the losses. The newspaper believes that the Germans apparently were able to take to port some of their badly damaged big vessels, and considers the Germans' enthusiasm over their "naval victory" hardly justified, because, "with the destruction of some of their vessels, England's sea power has not a tall been destroyed."

The German fleet returned to their harbors, adds the paper, "and just as before Wednesday, Germany remains bottled up in an iron girdle drawn across the sea, which cuts her off from overseas countries. The naval battle off Jutland, in view of the gigantic enemy losses, is a success for the young German navy, but a success which brings no decision and does not alter its naval position."

Causes of Advantage.

GENEVA, via Paris, June 3.—According to news received in Switzerland from German sources, whatever advantage Germany secured in the naval battle was due to two principal factors: "First, that the German navy, twenty-eight-centimeter guns out-classed the English forty-two-centimeter guns in a running fight, and second, that German submarines in attacking the larger ships were of great assistance."

Two Airships Destroyed.

ESBJERG, Denmark, Friday, June 2.—Two Zeppelin dirigible balloons are reported by fishermen returning to port today to have been destroyed. On one airship all the members of the crew are said to have perished.

The Avis Lammig states that fishermen arriving this afternoon report that yesterday they saw a Zeppelin in flames as the result of gunfire, and that the air vessel was destroyed forty miles off the Thyboron canal. The fishermen say the entire crew perished. The Ekstrabladt says fishermen arriving at Ringkjobing saw they saw another Zeppelin destroyed yesterday some miles from these waters.

A fishing cutter today brought into Esbjerg fourteen empty torpedo tubes.

The destruction of birds costs this country $1,000,000,000 a year, it is estimated.

British Fleet Out Seeking a Battle

LONDON, June 3.—At the British admiralty today the following statement was made to the Associated Press:

"We went out within enemy waters seeking a fight. Our inferior fleet engaged the entire German battle fleet, forced them to return to harbor and to give up any plan of action they may have contemplated."

It was added that the latest reports received from Admiral Jellicoe and Vice Admiral Beatty had caused a feeling of elation among naval officers.

DIVORCE FOR MRS. WAITE.

Court to Grant Decree to Wife of Convicted Murderer.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 3.—Judge Maj. S. Dunham today announced that he will grant a divorce July 1 to Mrs. Clara Louise Peck Waite, wife of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, who recently was convicted in New York of the murder of Mrs. Waite's father, John E. Peck of this city, it is to be electrocuted during the week of July 10.

Mrs. Waite probably will go to California for a long rest immediately after she obtains her divorce.

BATTLE A LESSON TO U. S.

Shows Need of First-Class Battle-ships, Says Admiral Pendleton.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—The United States should seriously regard the great naval battle in the North sea as an object lesson in its future preparedness, was the statement today of Rear Admiral E. C. Pendleton, retired. The battle, he said, proved conclusively that battle cruisers cannot reckon with first-class battleships.

The necessity for Congress to incorporate a provision for dreadnaughts in the naval bill authorizing the addition of five battle cruisers to the United States Navy is self-apparent, he said.

Hundreds of Bodies Are Floating on Sea

LONDON, June 3.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company sends word that fishermen who are arriving at Esbjerg, Denmark, reported they had seen outside Blaavandsluk several hundred bodies of British and German sailors.

On the water were large quantities of oil, apparently from submarines.

MORE FAVORABLE LIGHT THROWN OVER SEA FIGHT BY BRITISH PRESS

LONDON, June 3.—The afternoon newspapers view the naval engagement in a more favorable light than some of the morning papers, probably because the latter were obliged to form editorial judgment without the assistance of the second British admiralty statement, which was issued early today. The Pall Mall Gazette says:

"When the two official announcements are put together and compared with the German version there certainly is no ground for depression as to the actual effects of the engagement or its portent for the naval situation at large. Our losses in ships evidently were greater than the enemy's. The loss which no philosophy will assuage is that of the officers and crews of the

CRAVING FOR THE SPECTACULAR IS BLAMED FOR BRITISH LOSSES

LONDON, June 3.—We fear that the policy which resulted in the loss of so many lives and ships is directly traceable to the influence upon naval strategy of civil alarm on the east coast, and the demand of some of our emotional people that the fleet do something spectacular, says the Chronicle. "In his letter to the mayors of Yarmouth and Lowestoft on May 8, A. J. Balfour, first lord of the Admiralty, distinctly foreshadowed a change of naval policy. It was not only a change, but a change that in future we would not wait for enemy warships to make a runaway bombardment of our coast, but that we would endeavor to intercept them on their return."

ASKS LORD FISHER'S RETURN AS BRITISH ADMIRALTY HEAD

LONDON, June 3.—The Daily News calls for the return of Lord Fisher, formerly first sea lord of the admiralty, to the head of the navy. "No single event," says the newspaper, "would more effectively counteract the danger of a diminution of confidence in the navy, if it exists, than the return of Lord Fisher, who in time of peace brought the navy to a state of unexampled efficiency. The country needs him in this urgent hour."

The newspaper calls the action the gravest disaster sustained by the British navy since the outbreak of the war.

HEAD OF BRITISH GRAND FLEET AND KING EXCHANGE GREETINGS

LONDON, June 3.—The British official press bureau today made public the text of messages exchanged between King George and Admiral Jellicoe, commander-in-chief of the British grand fleet, on the occasion of the king's birthday anniversary Admiral Jellicoe's message read:

"On the occasion of your majesty's birthday the officers and men of the grand fleet in humble duty send their respectful, heartfelt good wishes, and the loyal hope and determination that through victory for your majesty's arms and those of our gallant allies the blessings of peace may be restored."

The king replied:

"I am deeply touched by the message you have sent in behalf of the grand fleet. It reaches me on the morrow of a battle which once more displayed the splendid gallantry of the officers and men under your command."

"I mourn the loss of the brave men, many of them personal friends of mine, who fell in their country's cause. Yet even more I regret that the German high seas fleet, in spite of its heavy losses, was enabled by misty weather to evade the full consequences of the encounter."

"They always professed a desire for which when the opportunity arrived they showed no inclination. Though the retirement of the enemy immediately after the opening of a general engagement robbed us of the opportunity of gaining a decisive victory the events of last Wednesday amply testify to the confidence in the valor and efficiency of the fleet under your command."

BURLINGTON, Iowa, June 3.—Rear Admiral Horace Hood of the British navy, reported lost on the battle cruiser Invincible, was married in this city four years ago to Mrs. Edith Nicholson, widow of George Nicholson of Boston, Mass. Mrs. Hood is a native of Iowa.

Sing National Airs As They Go to Death

YMUIDEN, Holland, June 3.—The captain of a Dutch steamship who witnessed the North sea battle said:

"It was an unforgettable and awful sight. It seemed like an earthquake in midsea. Both the British and Germans fought with the utmost gallantry, and it was heartrending to see those young men drowning. I saw ships going down under the terrible fire, and their heroic crews, some waving flags and some singing national anthems, disappearing in the deep."

THREE GERMAN SHIPS, TWO BRITISH, ARE SUNK

Teuton Vessels Said to Have Been Torpedoed in Swedish Waters.

BERLIN, June 3, by wireless to Sayville.—"Swedish newspapers report that three German steamships have been torpedoed by a submarine probably in Swedish waters, and that no warning was given," says the Overseas News Agency. "Six men perished. As much as a British torpedo was found near Skelherken the Swedish press considers it certain that the ships were torpedoed by a British submarine."

WAR NOT WORST THING Vicious Living More Deplorable, Vice President Tells Loyal Order of Moose.

NEWARK, N. J., June 3.—War is not the worst thing that can come to a nation, in the opinion of Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, who came here today to attend the convention of the Loyal Order of Moose, held in connection with the city's 250th anniversary celebration, and who delivered an address before returning to Washington tonight. He believed, he said, it was far better for American youths to lose their lives on the battlefield in defense of our institutions than to destroy their lives by vicious conduct in social affairs. There are thousands of men in America, he declared, who are dead, but they are not buried.
